

I wish to go on record in opposition to the attempt by the Consumer Bankers Association to weaken Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. I believe that the State of Indiana has the right to uphold stronger protections than those required by federal laws. I also believe that it would be unfair to Indiana residents for the FCC to impose a weakening of those protections. The attempt by the CBA to use the federal "established business relationship" exemption would allow anybody that I currently have a business relationship with (my bank, credit card company, long distance carrier, etc.) to call me as often as they want. Over an eighteen month period, that could translate to over 800,000,000 more unwanted phone calls to Indiana residents. This is an imposition that I can not tolerate.

Please uphold Indiana law and my right to privacy from unwanted telephone calls.

Sincerely,
Laura Sucec
